Eat, drink, and make a difference at Community Bridges' Farm to Fork Dinner

Aptos, Calif. — The third annual Farm to Fork Gala, benefiting human services nonprofit Community Bridges, will be held Aug. 4 from 5:30 to 9pm at Aptos Village Park.

The public is invited to enjoy a locally sourced gourmet dinner prepared by the award-winning Teen Kitchen Project, local wines, Discretion Brewing beer, a live band, a live auction and an address by Tom Broz, owner of Live Earth Farm and president of the Santa Cruz County Farm Bureau Board of Directors.

Event proceeds benefit Community Bridges' family of 10 programs that collectively serve 20,000 children, families and seniors in Santa Cruz County each year.

“At Farm to Fork, a wonderful group of people come together to celebrate the power of collaboration and partnership, and to be with others who understand how taking local action to serve others helps us all thrive,” said Raymon Cancino, chief executive officer of Community Bridges. “This year we celebrate the launch of clinical supervision at our four family resource centers, our continued expansion of Lift Line, our move to downtown Watsonville, and our ongoing commitment to deliver essential services, provide equitable access to resources, and advocate for health and dignity across every stage of life.”

Tickets and event details, including menu and parking information, are available online at cbfarmtofork18.eventbrite.com. Tickets are $125 per person, $750 for a table of six, or $1,200 for a VIP table of eight.

The Community Bridges Farm to Fork Dinner is proudly sponsored by Aegis of Aptos, Bontadelli Farms, California Giant Berry Farms, Driscoll's, Granite Construction, Langlois Fancy Frozen Foods and System Studies. Media sponsors include KION 5/46, Santa Cruz Sentinel and Times Publishing Group.
